

NTSPP - 147 by Hieroglyph

Alphabetical: solve the clues and fit them in to the grid, wherever they will go

A American academic is a handsome fellow (6)

B Shopper starts to butter up young English rose (5)

C Conservative's down at the end (7)

D Comically like Beau Brummell (8)

E African rain-tree cultivation (8)

F Fish flail about (8)

G Like a dish of unfinished soup - cooked to swallow, for starters (8)

H Scotsman almost runs outside and rants (9)

I Heavy metal club (4)

J Film-star needs a jam roly-poly (5,4)

K Racing vehicles beginning to keep a right speed, having gone off (5)

L Games manufacturer's tablet, with zero rising stocks (8)

M Disguise minute grill (4)

M Confuse beast of burden bearing designated driver (6)

N Wine in the home is most distasteful (8)

O Nervous young hooligan with bruised ego outside (2,4)

P Horse is quiet when tied to a tree (5)

Q Suspect mirage appearing by Queen's University bog (8)

R Once again change tableware for material boxes (8)

S Marks anonymous driver on motorway - a skinhead (7)

T Illicitly, can he go out of rate-of-exchange arrangement like the Cayman Islands? (3-4)

U Employers' note: one lies about hangover's culmination on Sunday (9)

V Theatrical diva, draped over piano, is flat (5)

W Late celebration, in all respects with vigilance (9)

X Noel's cross about Liam's last two singles, ultimately (4)

Y Arab enemy turned international leader (6)

Z Oddly hyper-sensitive, to begin with, after last character's yarns (7)

Z Spot starter of Italian pasta (4)