

Alphabetical Doggerel

Solve the clues, and fit them in, wherever they will go. Clues are listed in alphabetical order of their solutions

- Play when the solver's a fan of King's book (2,3,4,2)
- Tab for the ticker needs black beer to cook (4,7)
- Copper beasts gutted small members of pride (4)
- More stupid pass right down under inside (6)
- City terrible; Celtic - wide ranging (8)
- Ancient celts? Not in Sinn Féin a-changing (7)
- End with a thrill that may restart the game (4-4)
- A bone in your arm sounds funny in name (7)
- One million growers can augment the chest (8)
- Black gang who travel above all the rest (3,3)
- Boilers make sweet-talk - weak odds' omission (7)
- Insects seen off, one granted permission (8)
- Burrower's agent - with sailor (retired) (4,3)

- New English newspaper bosses required (6)
- Marsupials' soup - so vile on paper (8)
- Noble to tinkle - finally, taper (4)
- Queen and odd sister - inquisitive sorts (8)
- Oft concrete's refined - or carbon distorts (10)
- Stitched small note by river - dawning of day? (7)
- Ear hairs stand up as a funny/sad play (5-5)
- Takes head protection from drunken lush men (7)
- Some novel crown sticks again and again? (6)
- Was mine therein, with the number one deer? (7)
- Ran off and rode east - two times engineer (7)
- Hankers for twelve months with mid-morning sun (6)
- Bigot's unknown note: a leftover ton (6)