

Across

- 1 Disdaining to spell this with an S as setter has, for instance? That's possible anathema to subscribers to 1d (15)
- 9 Something making it difficult to swallow offensive article by body of students (7)
- 10 Poles confining all Scottish people to moor (7)
- 11 Like the Tube, going in cycles? (5)
- 12 One against what has gone before with love for what may come... to start with (9)
- 13 Recent lament aired by setter: a problem with inspiration (9)
- 15 Drinks sent back in tantrum (5)

- 16 Resistance reduced, current climbs (5)
- 18 What is in logs concerning previous returns to the interior (2-7)
- 20 Unqualified entrants upset small core (3-6)
- 23 Ransack folio in anger (5)
- 24 Realise I got in a mess identifying number of additives going national (7)
- 25 Withdraw from agreement about standing for Tory party (7)
- 26 Unintentional quality? (15)

Down

- 1 Worker I brought to mint is motivated primarily by negative attitude to foreign domination (4-11)
- 2 Understanding of English 10/10: Alain finally moves from bottom place up to second (7)
- 3 Stupidly, I'm on sugar, but what would I know? (9)
- 4 Worse things happen where salt is employed (2,3)
- 5 Wanting to give an example -- without using principal characters from New Testament, however (9)
- 6 Just out of bed, a period when hallucinations may well occur (5)
- 7 If truth be spoken, in the end it's on the tip of one's tongue (7)
- 8 Not all there speaking in ancient language? (3,6,6)
- 14 Take care of Heather, babe (9)
- 15 Soaks treat us as nuts! (9)
- 17 The French breaking into song after mass delerium caused by this (7)
- 19 Expand limited information with notes (7)
- 21 Leading pair of literati chasing award, daggers drawn! (5)
- 22 Slippery slope inherent in spurious creed (5)